ORDER

Government have been considering the question of equating the National Apprenticeship Certificate in Printing with the K.G.F.E. Certificate in Printing. After examining the views expressed by the State Apprenticeship Adviser and the Director of Technical Education, Government consider that it is not advisable to equate National Apprenticeship Certificate in Printing with K.G.F.E. Certificate in Printing as National Apprenticeship Certificate is of a higher standard.

In the circumstances, Government order that the National Apprenticeship Certificate in Printing may be accepted as an alternative qualification to posts for which K.G.F.E. Certificate in Printing is the minimum qualification.
